Therefore, the number of teeth of a planetary gear set, which is the number of teeth of the inner gear and the outer gear, is equal to the number of teeth of the outer gear plus one tooth. Therefore, in a case where the number of teeth of the outer gear is an odd number, an even number of teeth is left between two teeth adjacent to each other so as to form a space. This causes the number of teeth of the planetary gear set to become an even number. In a planetary gear set using a sun gear, a carrier, a ring gear, and a pinion, the number of teeth of the ring gear is an odd number, which is the number of teeth of the sun gear plus one. In a planetary gear set using a sun gear, a carrier, and a pinion, the number of teeth of the carrier is an even number, which is the number of teeth of the sun gear plus one. Therefore, the number of teeth of the ring gear is the number of teeth of the sun gear plus one. A related art planetary gear set is shown in FIG. 1. With reference to FIG. 1, the related art planetary gear set 10 is a planetary gear set in which one planetary gear 20, a carrier 30, a sun gear 40, a bearing housing 50, and a cover 60 are coupled to each other. In the planetary gear set 10, the carrier 30 is coupled to the bearing housing 50 through the cover 60. The
